

Waiting to hear....

Do you struggle to tell friends about your faith? Why not come to this inspiring morning of training in relational evangelism with Gary Gibbs, Director of the Elim School of Ministry at Regents College.

When...? Saturday 28th January 2012

Where...? Market Drayton Methodist Church

Time...? 9.30am - 1.00pm

(coffee & sign in from 9.00am)

For more information or to book a place please contact Paul Savill...

Telephone: 07811 517324

Email: paulandness@hotmail.com

Introducing Gary Gibbs.

Director of the Elim School of Ministry,
Regents College.

Gary is an experienced evangelist with a heart and calling to share the good news of Jesus. He has been in paid ministry since 1979 beginning as an evangelist with Youth for Christ and remaining in travelling evangelism until the mid nineties when he planted a church in a suburb of Derby. From there, a number of related congregations gathered into one large city church in which Gary was involved in leadership. After a few more years of doing local and national ministry, he joined the staff at Regents where teaches and encourages new generations to introduce others to Jesus.

Gary continues to preach and encourage both fellowships and individuals in their local setting and his enthusiasm for the gospel is contagious! He will be using material from 'under the influence', a course which can be used in cell/housegroups over 4 midweek evenings. (DVDs and workbooks will be available).

Be encouraged and equipped through Gary's ministry!

under the influence

a workshop in relational evangelism

